

Church & Community Relations Intern

Why Join Us?

Support Compassion's African American Relations' global discipleship programs by aiding in the research, development, and implementation of partnerships within the African American community.

You will:

- Research and help define effective social media and personalization strategies for engaging new and existing partners.
- Review and document current processes to create standardized African American Relations engagement manual.
- Research and help define new processes for establishing global discipleship partnerships with churches, educational institutions, and community organizations.
- Assist in the development of global discipleship curriculum utilized by new and existing partners.
- Attend and assist with registration at Compassion Sunday rollouts.

You have:

- Intellectual curiosity that drives you to seek insight & make connections
- Ability to think outside everyday ideas and push the envelope in how to better existing or new strategies
- Strong organizational skills, attention to detail, and analytical thinking skills
- The ability to keep a secret: Confidentiality with obtained information is crucial
- Strong interpersonal and cross-cultural communication skills
- Demonstrated excellence in customer service and able to maintain a high level of professionalism
- Experience in working in a local church
- Experience with Christian Education curriculum development desired but not required

You study:

- Theology, Business, Marketing, Sociology, etc